

ENTIRE OHIO VALLEY NOW FLOOD SWEPT; PROPERTY LOSS HEAVY

SCORES OF CITIES FROM MARIETTA TO CAIRO ARE AFFECTED BY RISING WATERS—NO DEATHS REPORTED.

HASTEN RELIEF WORK

Rescues Scores of Unidentified Bodies From Wreckage at Dayton and Columbus—Food Supplies Distributed to Homeless.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Floods in the Ohio river from its mouth to Marietta, Ohio, because of the great volume of water poured into it during the last week by tributaries have caused thousands of people to leave the lowlands along the river and seek refuge on higher ground.

The water today was still rising and at every city along the river heavy damage to property was reported. Railroad traffic has been impeded and many miles of track washed out. In Illinois Governor Duane has ordered 1500 state troops to proceed by special train to Cairo and Shawneetown for the purpose of patrolling the levee. Hundreds of laborers have been employed to pile sacks of sand on the levee in the hope of preventing a break.

Reports today from Henderson, Owensboro, Louisville, Newport, and Covington, Ky., Evansville, Ind., Cincinnati, Portsmouth, Marietta, Ohio, Huntington and Parkersburg, W. Va., show that stocks of goods in buildings near the river have suffered greatly, the damage running into the millions. There has been no loss of life however at any of these points. A telephone message from Cairo, Ill., today said the levees were still holding and that the town was in less danger than was believed imminent last night. The water was still several feet below the top of the levee.

Leave For Cairo. Chicago, March 31.—The 7th regiment Illinois National Guard under command of Col. Daniel Moriarty and the Illinois Naval reserve Captain E. A. Iver in charge left here today on a special train over the Illinois Central for Cairo. The men will do flood duty.

High at Louisville. Louisville, Ky., March 31.—The stage of the Ohio river here at seven this morning was 42.7 feet, a rise of 1.6 feet in the last 24 hours.

At Memphis. Memphis, March 31.—A stage of 36 feet was registered on the local gauge of the Mississippi river at seven this morning, a rise of .8 of a foot in the last 24 hours.

At Cairo. Cairo, Ill., March 31.—The stage of the Ohio river at 8 o'clock this morning was 52.1 feet and the river is still rising. The levee is 55 feet high and as it is weighted down with sand bags for two additional feet there seems to be no immediate danger. Several companies of Illinois guard arrived this morning.

An Appeal Made. Dayton, March 31.—John H. Patterson chairman citizens' relief committee issued the following statement today regarding condition: "Our committee has now at its disposal all the food and clothing necessary to meet the loss of the sufferers of Dayton.

"Money, however, is urgently required, for putting our city in a condition to prevent the outbreak of serious diseases, and to rehabilitate thousands many of whom have lost their homes entirely and all of whom have lost their household and personal effects.

"The committee wishes to send out an urgent appeal to the citizens of the United States for the necessary funds. All contributions should be sent to W. F. Bippus, who has been appointed treasurer of the relief committee."

In the bread line today was Eugene J. Banney, a multi-millionaire whose gifts to charity had been very large and recently included $25,000 to the Y. M. C. A. of this city. He obtained three loaves of bread and a small sack of potatoes.

Still Rising. Springfield, Ill., March 31.—That the river is still rising and that laborers who are needed to throw the sand bags along the concrete levee to increase the protection are fleeing from the city was the information received today by Governor Duane and adjutant general Dixon from Cairo.

Is Under Water. Lawrenceburg, Ind., March 31.—Practically the whole city is under deep water today and more than 50 buildings are known to have been carried away. The Knippensburg Carriage Factory burned during the night. Owing to warnings of flood danger, however, it is believed there will be no loss of life.

Factories Destroyed. During the fire the factory buildings were torn from their foundations and carried about five squares by which time the buildings had burned to the water's edge.

The drinking water is plentiful for those refugees who fled to the highlands, but it is not believed there is enough for for more than two days.

Recover Sixty-seven Bodies. Columbus, March 31.—With a total of sixty-seven bodies recovered, most of them identified as having been among the missing since the flood waters wrought havoc in the west side of this city, efforts to recover bodies believed to have been swept down by the swift current were continued today. In the expectation that bodies might be found beneath the huge piles of wreckage it was planned to explore sections that for five days have been inundated. Although there was a heavy drain on the food supply of the city yesterday and early today, many of the groceries of the city being sold out, it was stated today that efforts to prevent a food famine would be successful, because of outside relief that has reached the city.

Cincinnati Situation. Cincinnati, March 31.—Spreading over a vast expanse of territory in this city as well as an almost equal amount in the various towns that lie along the river on the Kentucky shore, the Ohio, which at this point is within two feet of being as high as at any previous time in its history this morning continues to rise. During the night the central part of the city was thrown into a semi-panic by an explosion that could be heard for a mile. The Union Carbide company at Pearl and Elm streets had been destroyed in an explosion caused by contact with so much water. No one was injured as the building was not occupied and is practically isolated.

Refugees Suffer. Louisville, March 31.—Reports from Ashland and Mayville, Ky., and Madison, Indiana, told of enormous property damage and much suffering among the flood refugees. From western Kentucky came reports of privation in the outlying lowlands. Henderson, Paducah and Owensboro bulletins said the river continued with a rapid rise, but in those cities property small damage was feared. In Louisville the Pennsylvania system announced it was prepared to establish regular service to Indianapolis and through sleeping service to Chicago. Louisville and Nashville trains from Cincinnati reached Louisville by a western detour.

Paducah, Ky., today reported that there was absolutely no danger there even if the river reached a stage of fifty feet.

Illinois Loans. Flora, Ill., March 31.—Railroad and wagon communication between this point and Shawneetown, Illinois, is interrupted. The Baltimore and Ohio tracks are only open as far as Barnhill, forty-six miles from Shawneetown. Everybody except guardsmen are said to have been ordered away from Shawneetown. It is reported that a bridge over the White river at Washington, Ind., sixty-six miles east of here, collapsed today, causing the death of four men.

FOX RIVER FLOODS THREATEN DAMAGE

Oshkosh and Appleton Report That River is Rapidly Rising.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Oshkosh, March 31.—The water in the Fox river raised an inch last night at Oshkosh and the current is so strong that boat houses are being torn from their clappings and coming down the river. Large cakes of ice and pieces of log are coming down with such speed that there is danger of blockage at the Oshkosh bridges.

At Appleton. Appleton, March 31.—The water of the Fox river is reported higher today. There is no danger, however, as long as the Menasha dam holds.

CARRANZA DECLARES HIMSELF PRESIDENT

Head of Mexican Revolution in the North Now Claims His Supremacy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, March 31.—Governor Carranza at the head of the revolution against the Mexican government in the north has declared himself provisional president according to official advice today.

TEST OF THE WEBB LAW STARTED IN KENTUCKY

Frankfort, Ky., March 31.—The local agent of one of the express companies was arrested in the circuit court for trial today on charges of delivering liquor in violation of the Webb law, the new Federal statute which prohibits the shipment of liquor for sale in prohibition territory. This is the first case to be tried in Kentucky and it probably will be used to test the law in the supreme court.

MAN KILLED IN QUARREL OVER SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Abingdon, Va., March 31.—The trial is scheduled to begin here this week of Peter Shelley, an aged resident of the town of Barron this county, who on this day before last Christmas is alleged to have stabbed and killed Leek Short, a neighbor. Shelley and Short's son-in-law engaged in a quarrel over a debt of seventy-five cents. When the two were about to come to blows Short stepped between them and was stabbed by Shelley, dying from the wound the following day. Shelley fled and was not heard of for some time. Finally he was found in Oregon and returned for trial.

Dallas Plans Playgrounds. Dallas, Texas, March 31.—Dallas citizens will vote tomorrow on a proposal to issue bonds to the amount of half a million dollars to be used in extending and systematizing the city's playgrounds.

LIBERAL DONATIONS GIVEN BY CHURCHES TOWARD FLOOD FUND

SEVERAL HUNDRED DOLLARS RAISED SUNDAY IN VARIOUS CHURCHES TO AID SUFFERERS.

SENT $350 MORE TODAY

$175 Wired to Peru, Indiana, Where An Appeal is Made for Aid and the Rest Went to Colonel Wilson at Columbus.

Three hundred and fifty dollars was wired this afternoon to aid the flood sufferers. One hundred and seventy-five went to Col. Wilson at Columbus, Ohio, and one hundred and seventy-five to Joseph H. Shirk at Peru, Ind., from which city an appeal for aid came today.

In every church in the city yesterday contributions were taken for the flood sufferers and liberal donations made. It is expected that the list will be swelled during the next few days so that fully fifteen hundred or two thousand dollars will have been contributed by Jamesville.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Marinette, March 31.—Speeding along at the rate of about 50 miles an hour a passenger train on the Northwestern road went over the track last night at Bagley, Michigan, about 30 miles north of here and went into the ditch. All of the passengers were badly shaken up, but five were injured and conveyed to a hospital near Benning.

WOULD LOAN POSTAL SAVINGS TO FARMERS

Assembly Committee Favors Resolution Asking Congress for Permission to Loan Deposits.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., March 31.—A move to have the postal savings deposits of Wisconsin loaned to farmers is favored by the assembly committee on judiciary. A resolution petitioning congress to pass a law which will permit at least 50 per cent of the funds collected in postal savings banks of the state to be loaned to farmers upon real estate security has been offered by Assemblyman J. H. Vint of Milwaukee. Mr. Vint claims that there are three million acres of land in various parts of the country withheld from profitable agricultural use by the presence of natural obstacles of cultivation, such as swamps, stumps and the like. In his argument before the committee he pointed out that the states of Washington, Idaho, Oregon, California, Minnesota and Wisconsin are this year considering proposals to establish systems of state loans to farmers, and that in view of the fact that this money is now used to purchase bonds and other United States securities, a portion of it could well be diverted as loans to farmers.

Another joint resolution offered by Assemblyman Vint has also been recommended for passage by the judiciary committee. It relates to the clause in the constitution limiting the state in contracting a public debt. The Vint resolution provides that for the purpose of acquiring property for the promotion of the general welfare, the state may contract such public debt as the legislature, by a majority of the vote shall direct. These debts are to be repaid in any manner directed by the legislature. To safeguard his resolution, however, he has incorporated a clause that "the specific purpose for which each debt is authorized and the manner in which the debt is to be repaid must be distinctly the contracting of a debt." The bill providing for a small penalty of trespassing on railroad tracks has been recommended for indefinite postponement by the judiciary committee. Practically no public hearing on legislative bills will be held by the senate committee this week.

CANDIDATES FOR COUNCIL NUMEROUS IN DULUTH

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Duluth, Minn., March 31.—Duluth's first election under the commission plan of government will be held tomorrow and public interest in the contests is unusually keen. A mayor and four commissioners are to be chosen. For the five places to be filled there are more than sixty candidates on the ticket, including ten candidates for mayor, nine for the long-term commissionerships and forty-five for the short-term commissionerships. A peculiar feature of the contest is that few regular office-seekers are in the race, nearly all of those who are running never having held public office.

MORGAN DIED IN ROME AT EARLY HOUR TODAY AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS

SENATE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE FINDINGS SAID TO HAVE HASTENED HIS END WHICH CAME EARLY TODAY.

A KING OF FINANCIERS

Greatest of American Bankers Has Notable Record of Achievement in Business World—Backed U. S. Steel Corporation.

New York, (O. P. S.) March 31.—J. Pierpont Morgan is dead. He died at 12:05 p. m. Rome time. This announcement was made by officials of J. P. Morgan and Company today. Dr. M. Allen Starr, New York, called into consultation on account of J. Pierpont Morgan's illness attributed to the financier's breakdown to emotion caused by the investigation carried out by the Pujo committee at Washington into the operations of the money trust.

When the death of Mr. Morgan was seen to be approaching rapidly Prof. Bastianelli and Dr. Dixon forced Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, his son-in-law and daughter, and Miss Helen Hamilton, who had been in constant attendance to leave the room.

Mr. Morgan, toward the end, showed that he was suffering internally only by a movement of his right hand. Otherwise he displayed no signs of vitality except by continuous heavy breathing.

Recurrent bulletins were issued during the morning showing that his condition was gradually becoming worse and by eleven o'clock the physicians had given up all hope.

Mr. Morgan was unable to assimilate the artificial nourishment administered during the morning and his physical weakness was extreme. Heart tonics were injected, but these had no effect and for several hours before his death he was in a state of coma unable to respond to any questions or to recognize any of those at his bedside.

One of his relatives, Mrs. Fitzsimmon, wife of the Rev. Fitzsimmon, arrived from Cannes and was shown into the death chamber, but her presence remained unknown to the dying man.

Besides the four trained nurses in attendance Miss Helen Hamilton was of great assistance to the three physicians, Prof. Bastianelli, Dr. M. Allen Starr, and Dr. George A. Dixon.

During the morning George Post Wheeler, secretary of the American embassy, called to inquire on behalf of the ambassador, Thomas J. O'Brien, and was told that Mr. Morgan had collapsed that the patient's condition had been rendered worse by increasing deafness.

Cable dispatches from America, Great Britain and other parts of the world poured in all day making anxious inquiries and expressing the affection in which Mr. Morgan was held everywhere.

The body of the late J. Pierpont Morgan is to be embalmed and sent to the United States on a ship from Naples. A funeral service will be held here before the departure of the body.

Much Surprised. Washington, March 31.—Surprise was expressed by members of the money trust committee now in Washington, that Mr. Morgan's breakdown should have been attributed, by his physicians, to the effects of the Pujo inquiry. When the banker appeared before the committee December 18th and 19th, he was apparently in good health and his bearing was confident and self-possessed.

"Mr. Morgan seemed to enjoy the investigation," said Representative Hayes of California today. "He seemed at ease and under no unusual strain."

New York Office Closed. The Morgan offices at the corner of Broad and Wall streets were closed this morning on the front door was pasted this notice: "J. P. Morgan died at Rome, Italy, at 12:05 p. m."

Please don't speak to me now," was the request of J. P. Morgan Jr., now J. P. Morgan of the small army of newspaper men who greeted him when he left his home in Madison avenue this morning. Mr. Morgan was bound for the home of his mother a few doors away. Before he reached her door, however, he added:

"Two cablegrams have been received from Rome. One was received at 8:15 and the other at 8:30. They have not yet been translated. A statement will be given out later at the offices of J. P. Morgan and Company."

Makes Announcement. Henry P. Davison, a member of the house of Morgan made the announcement. He said merely that he has received a cable that the financier had passed away shortly after noon. Mr. Davison had planned to go abroad some time this week, but it thought probable that this trip will be postponed.

Coincident with Mr. Morgan's death it became known that he had suffered a serious attack before his departure for Europe, but rallied so rapidly that it was not considered a forerunner to fatal illness and was known only to his most intimate friends.

partners to shoulder all responsibility for their conduct. It was the first instance of his taking such a complete rest since he entered the banking business in this city before the civil war.

Market is Prepared. Prominent bankers of this city said this morning they did not predict any decided unfavorable effect on the stock market by reason of Mr. Morgan's death. The reason of this they explained was that the recurrent rumors of his serious illness had prepared the market for any possibility and enabled those engaged in market operations to prepare for just such a situation.

The stock market bore up well under the news of Mr. Morgan's death. Opening prices showed declines which in almost no case exceeded a point. Supporting orders rallied the market quickly. Trading showed no evidence of nervousness.

Sketch of His Life.

John Pierpont Morgan, American banker and financier, was born in Hartford, Conn., and educated at the English High School, Boston, and at the University of Göttingen, Germany. In 1857 he entered the New York banking house of Duncan, Sherman & Co., and in 1860 was appointed the American agent for the London firm of George Peabody & Co., of which his father was a member. In 1871 he became a partner in the firm of Dabney, Morgan & Co., and later in that of Drexel, Morgan & Co., which business was re-organized in 1880 under the name J. P. Morgan & Co., with a branch in London.

Many Big Undertakings. The firm has been conspicuous for the last twenty-five years in reorganization of railway properties and the financing of important industrial enterprises. During the Cleveland administration it placed the United States bond issue of $62,000,000 and in 1901 managed the reorganization of the U. S. Steel Corporation with its billion-dollar capital. His firm also took a leading part in the financing of the Northern Securities Company and of the Atlantic Shipping Trust.

He founded and endowed the New York Lying-in Hospital, the finest institution of its kind in the country, and made large donations to the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, to the New York Trade Schools, and to the Harvard Medical School.

In Sports and Art. As commodore of the New York Yacht club he was the leading spirit in the building of the Columbia which defeated the Shamrock in 1899 and in 1901. To the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art, of which institution he was president, he made notable gifts of new acquisitions and other art objects.

He was well known as a collector of paintings, porcelains, and rare books, for which treasures he built a beautiful private museum and library adjoining his home at Thirty-seventh street and Madison avenue in New York City.

A Devout Christian. Despite a life of strenuous endeavor Mr. Morgan found time for other things. He gave away millions in charity, but nothing perturbed him more than to have it mentioned to him. He was a devout Christian and vestryman of St. George's Episcopal church, where he could be seen every Sunday morning when at home passing the silver salver for the collection.

It is impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the size of the Morgan fortune. It has been variously estimated in recent years at from $75,000,000 to $200,000,000. If it is anywhere near the latter figure, it is equally true that he made as much for others.

In 1861 Mr. Morgan married Miss Amelia Sturges, who died the following year. In 1865 he married Frances Louise Tracy, by whom he had one son and three daughters. The son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., is now a man of middle life, and for a number of years has been the active head of the Morgan banking house in New York.

No Effect. The death of J. P. Morgan had little or no effect on prices on the London stock exchange.

SEES BRIGHT SIDE TO GREAT DISASTER

THE REVEREND JOHN MCKINNEY POINTS OUT LESSON OF GREAT FLOODS.

SYMPATHY AWAKENED

Humanity Learns Its Unity, Its Common Joys and Sorrows and Dependence Upon a Common Father.

"Great disasters, violent outbursts of the great elemental forces in nature, the earthquake, the tornado, the flood, such as have assailed us during the last week with the loss of life, property, and the feebleness of man to block their advance, have their bright as well as dark sides, although at this hour the silver lining of the cloud may seem obscured. The thought of the great storms and the havoc that they played, coming close upon the Easter festival, seems to rob us of its joys and turn them to a mockery. But wait, look deeper, and out of the present sorrow will be seen to rise joys most precious and enduring, the knowledge that all mankind is one in its sorrows and in its joys, that all barriers of race, nationality, faith, wealth and caste are wiped out when the call for help is sounded. We again realize that we are members one of another, that no man liveth unto himself, and that in time of trouble God will provide for those who are in need of our brethren east and west. If we had any doubts of what religion does for men it has again been proven to us that it keeps alive their sympathies and loosens their purse strings when disaster overwhelms their fellows.

"Sorrow and joy are closely intertwined through life; also inseparable. In them and through them both the hand of God is felt, and we catch glimpses, now faint, now far distinct, of his great and enduring purposes, wherein do we see the hand of God? In keeping the hearts of men tender, piercing through the crusts of selfishness and self-sufficiency, inspiring them to generosity, to self-sacrifice, and causing them to distinguish between the ephemeral and the eternal, the real and the illusory. The suffering of our brethren east and west has drawn us together with the bonds of sympathy. Perhaps it is our turn to suffer next; there is no part of the globe that is exempt from disaster, and as we help now, we may need help.

"Of especial timeliness is the scripture lesson for this Sunday, the first chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, in which is recorded the glorious ascension of our Lord and Saviour. Its message is the message of hope and confidence; the hope that transfigures men. Had we not the undoubted testimony of His disciples to His transfiguration, we could still believe, for the men who witnessed it were different men from that time on; they were transfigured. Nothing could be more convincing than the testimony of a life transformed, absorbing into its very substance the truth that it professes to believe. As the disciples were different men after the ascension of their Master, so will men walk differently after their hearts have been touched and made tender by the great misfortune that has befallen their brothers and sisters.

"The floods, as well as the resurrection teach us that men can not thwart the purposes of God. Pilate, when the door of the tomb had been sealed thought that the Christ was subdued and conquered. Men, confident in their science and their engineering, believed that the works of their hands could hold in check one of the greatest forces in nature. Both were humbled and brought to realize their feebleness, for behind Nature is God.

"Why did Christ die upon the cross? Was it merely to show his power over Nature, to win a victory over those who believed that they had blotted Him out from the hearts of the people, to work another miracle? His purpose was far loftier; he came to fight and conquer sin. Christ wanted men not only to believe upon Him and the power of His resurrection but to live His life. Let us not forget this time of fasting and prayer exercise an influence upon you throughout the year. Live not to yourself alone, for pleasure, for gain, and for self-indulgence. Remember your duties to your God, the church, and your fellow-man, and make the teachings of the Master a part of your life. It is because we do not weave these teachings into our life that we forget them and live as though they were not. Forget not the parting message of our Saviour, 'As My Father sent me into the world, so send I even you.'

HIGH WIND THREATENED TO OVERTURN BUILDING

Firemen Called Out Last Night to Prevent Ice House From Blowing Over Upon Small Dwelling.

High winds last night threatened to overturn the icehouse that was being wrecked on South River street, upon the one-story dwelling of James Riley, which stood close behind it, and Mr. Riley about ten o'clock telephoned the fire department to prevent his little home from being crushed. Eight or ten firemen went down, braced up the icehouse with planks and timbers, and tied it securely to a telephone pole. The icehouse roof had been removed, giving the wind a strong hold upon it. The building was razed to the ground this morning.

TAX COMMISSION HAS MADE EXPLANATION

Answers Letter Forwarded to Them By Gazette Relative to Filling Out Income Blanks.

The following letter, received from the Tax Commission, in a way explains the questions raised as to filling out the income tax blanks regarding which a communication, published some days ago in the Gazette, raised a question. The letter from the tax commission is as follows and may aid those who have not yet made out their return blanks which are due April 1: Gazette Printing Co., Janesville Wis. Gentlemen:

Your letter of the 25th instant quoting a correspondent who seeks advice as to the right to deduct carrying charges such as taxes, insurance, depreciation and repairs on residence and other rented property in excess of the rental value thereof came to hand by the course of mail. Attention is called to the fact that the form of return for 1912 income differs from that used last year in requiring return of the net rental value after deducting carrying charges, instead of first reporting the gross rental and then deducting taxes, insurance, depreciation and repairs as in last year's blank. This, however, is a change of form and not of substance.

The law expressly authorizes the deduction of taxes paid on property which contributes to the income reported and all ordinary and necessary expenses incident to producing it, including a reasonable allowance for depreciation of the property from which the income is derived. Under this latter clause the deduction of taxes, insurance, depreciation and repairs has been allowed. The blank prepared for the current year expressly provides for deduction of these items; if the aggregate of these expenses properly chargeable to the year covered by the return actually exceeds the rental value of the property the deficit may be used to reduce other income reported. This result may well occur in the case of property occupied only a portion of the year and under other exceptional circumstances.

It is believed, however, that the cases in which the actual rental value of or rent received from property occupied during the entire year will exceed the taxes, insurance, depreciation and repairs, properly chargeable to that year, are rare. The annual depreciation allowed is designed to cover the wear and tear of the property, and if that is actually used or set aside for the purpose it will go far toward covering the item of repairs. If, on the other hand, the allowance for depreciation is not used in keeping the building in condition, and the repairs are neglected for a number of years and then bunched together the full cost of repairs for that year are not necessarily deductible because the taxpayer has already had the benefit of the annual depreciation for the same purpose.

To guard against this practice and secure some degree of uniformity in administration, the commission has instructed assessors of incomes not to allow expenses of this character in excess of the rental value reported, without a full statement of the facts and submission of the question to this office.

The confusion and diversity of opinions relating to charges of this character and the demands of orderly administration seem to call for this rule. You are advised, therefore, that where it clearly appears that the carrying charges of rented property, properly estimated, exceeds the rental value or rent received for the year covered by the return all such charges may be deducted, but that before allowing carrying charges in excess of such rental value or rent received, the facts upon which the claim is based must be fully explained by the taxpayer, carefully investigated by the assessor of incomes, and reported to this commission for final decision.

More Breathitt County Cases.

Winchester, Ky., March 31.—A special session of the Clark County circuit court convened today to take up the case against the twelve men from Breathitt County accused of perjury in the Callahan case. At the same time the case of Andrew Johnson and "Doc" Smith, two of the feudists charged with complicity in the assassination of former Sheriff Ed. Callahan.

It is generally conceded that city life promotes eye strain and its distressing symptoms and that these conditions are caused almost entirely from faulty construction of the eyes. Properly fitted glasses will give relief.

RETURNING VICTORS ROYALLY WELCOMED

All Janesville Joins in Demonstration For High School Basketball Team Sunday Evening.

The athletes of Greece returning home victorious from the Olympic games could not have received a more royal welcome than the Janesville high school basketball team on their arrival here Sunday evening bringing with them the state championship banner which they earned at Appleton.

A crowd numbering into the thousands, old and young alike, thronged the depot platform and the street when the eighty-fifty Northwestern train came in. The members of the team were swept from their feet as soon as they stepped from the car and the cheering, yelling students carried them to the waiting carriages.

The Moose band which had been secured for the occasion found it impossible to play until at the head of the procession which formed on North Academy street.

Down Milwaukee street to Main marched the triumphant mob. Every one joined in the celebration and nothing was too good for the lads who had won for Janesville one of the most enviable records which a high school ever secured.

At the Myers house corner there was more cheering and high school yells. Everyone joined in regardless of age or previous condition of dignity and the band did its best to swell the sum total of noise and clamor until the old town fairly echoed and shook.

At nine-thirty the team accompanied by hundreds of students and others were taken to the Apollo theatre. Here W. H. Dougherty gave an address to the students welcoming and congratulating the members of the team on their brilliant success and he exhibited the beautiful banner which they had won as the result of their prowess. This was the signal for another wave of cheering and wild demonstration. Each player was then introduced to the audience and each was greeted with wild outbursts.

Coach Curtis also came in for his share of the applause. The members of the team were surprised and astonished at the reception which they received. "It's simply great," said Captain Falter, "We certainly appreciated the way Janesville citizens have supported us and their loyalty has been a great factor in our success this season."

Each player received from the Lawrence college management a gold medal which is the shape of a half basketball. Their banner is inscribed with the announcement, "Viscousia State Champions, 1913" and is a trophy which will be cherished for years at the local high school.

"Honest John" Cunningham

It is a pleasure to know that the people of Rock County have the opportunity to vote for such a man for county judge as John Cunningham of Janesville, president of the Rock County Bar Association. Should he be elected on April 1 the county may know that it has selected a worthy successor to Judge Sale, who held the office so long and so honorably and who has declined to run for reelection.

Mr. Cunningham is not a man untried or unfamiliar with the duties of the office he has consented to seek. During the past 24 years he has practiced law in Rock County. He is now just past 50. During his 24 years as an attorney he has won the respect of the bar and the bench, as well as that of all who have entrusted their legal affairs to his keeping.

Especially in the county court has Mr. Cunningham's business been large and increasing. His share of the probate business of the county has been liberal and his reputation for fair dealing has been such that it has won for him new clients in this class of work. Through his large practice in the court he has become thoroughly familiar with how that institution is conducted, information which would be valuable to him if he were elected county judge.

The office of county judge is an important one to the people of Rock county. Hundreds of estates are settled in this court each year. The judge who passes on them should be a man familiar with the usages of the court, a man whose reputation for integrity and square dealing is the highest. Such a man is "Honest John" Cunningham and voters will make no mistake in casting their ballots for him on April 1.

Extract from Editorial in Beloit Daily Free Press, March 17, 1913.

THE COUNTY JUDGESHIP.

Of the four candidates out for the office of County Judge, John Cunningham appears to be the most logical choice of the people as a successor to Judge Sale, (who retires of his own free will.) Mr. Cunningham is well fitted for the position, both from the point of age and training. His legal ability is unquestioned and his square and impartial dealing has earned him the title of "Honest John." He is not a politician in any sense of the word, and though a republican in politics, has the support of many democrats, and is practically the unanimous choice of the bar of Rock County, which is worthy of special consideration by laymen.

Mr. Cunningham's opponents are all able men and would doubtless serve the county well, but the Free Press believes that Mr. Cunningham should receive the support of the people at this time.

Paid advertisement. Amount paid, $7.50. Written and publication authorized by Charles L. Fifield, Janesville, Wis., in his own behalf.

You Must Vote
Tuesday, April 1st

if you expect to have your choice for County Judge count. If you are satisfied, after investigation, I should be pleased to have you vote for me. My whole life has been spent in Rock County and my private and public record is open to all. So far as the facts were known to me I have tried to do impartial justice and treat all fair and square on both sides. It has been argued that I have done good work in the Municipal Court and therefore ought to be kept there.

You can best judge the future by the past. If a man gives satisfaction in one position, is he not qualifying for the next higher and are you not most apt to find that he will fill that to your satisfaction also.

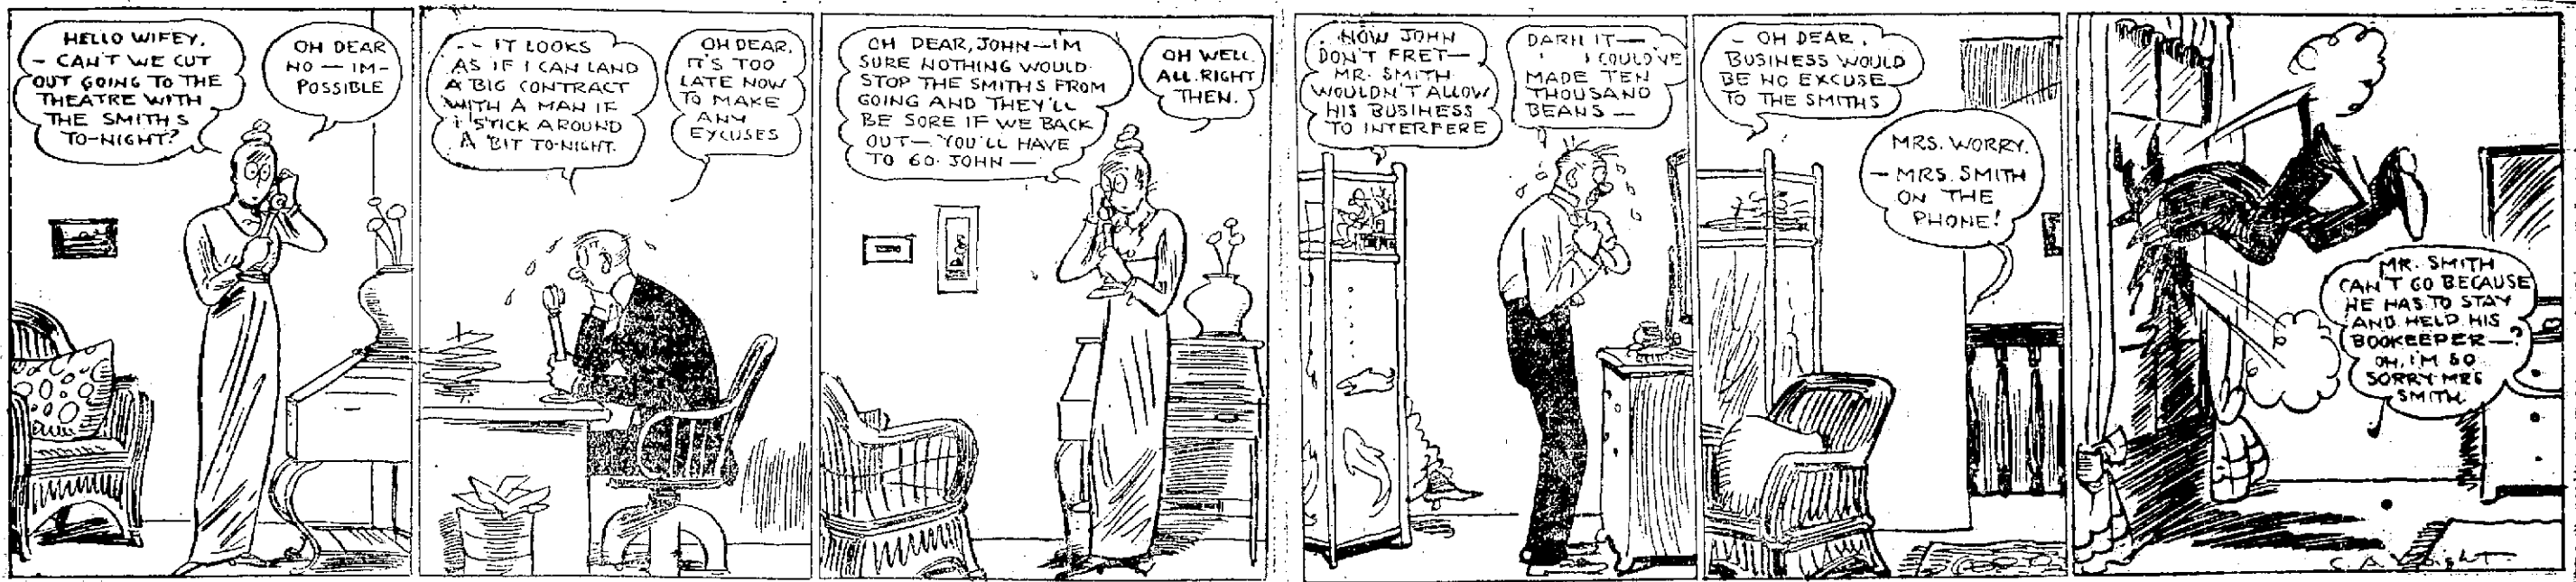

In the County Court, neither politics, religion, nor nationality should cut any figure. The County Court has charge of all estates, the probate of wills, the guardianship of children, the commitment of dependent children and of the insane. To pass on conflicting claims requires an ability to weigh and judge testimony, a knowledge of law and also patience and kindly consideration. My legal training and judicial experience I believe have fitted me for this position. While some of the work in the Municipal and County Courts is similar—yet the County Court does not include so much criminal work and is cleaner and of a higher grade. For this reason I should like to be elected to fill the position.

If the friends who have indicated that they would support me, vote, I am sure I will be elected by a large majority and to the seventeen hundred signers of my petition and all the others who have kindly given me their support, I only ask that you be sure and vote. I am very grateful for your kindness and will do my best to merit it.

LOCAL TEAM EASILY DEFEATS LA CROSSE FOR STATE HONORS

JANESVILLE BOYS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP AT APPLETON TOURNAMENT.

A BRILLIANT VICTORY

Final Game Was the Hardest For Janesville But the Margin of Victory Was Decidedly Safe. (By Scoop.)

On Saturday night at Appleton the Janesville high school basketball five had their hopes of becoming state champions realized by defeating the fast La Crosse team, in their hardest game of the season by the score of 35 to 24. This game was the final for the state championship, and the locals win this championship for the first time in the history of the school.

It was a hard game and for a time, it looked bad for Janesville. The first five minutes of play was all in favor of La Crosse, Janesville being unable to get down to real basketball. Soon Hemming made the local's first point on a free throw, and they were off. From this time on, the La Crosse team was outclassed, and the work of the entire Janesville five was more than superior to that shown by their opponents.

Janesville went into this final game with all the vim, and courage that a team could possibly have, and they certainly showed it, by their fast playing. Even for the fact, that Janesville put up their best game of the year, they were not forced to play to the best of their ability, and thus at times, they even toyed with their opponents, sometimes allowing the northern five to score several points at a time.

At the close of the game, everybody in attendance appeared glad that Janesville had won the prize. The entire city was for Janesville after their victory over Wausau on Thursday night, and it was difficult for the money wagers of that city to bet on Janesville. Everyone knew Janesville's strength, and they were spoken of by Referee Schroeder as being in a class by themselves in the tournament.

Janesville at least expected some fair competition, and it is safe to say that the locals met little obstacles even with La Crosse. They did not play hard, but their consistent style of playing and method of using their opponents, was largely responsible for their victory.

The championship game opened with a rush. Hemming tried for a goal, when La Crosse fouled, but he failed to make it. Wiess then shot the first basket of the game. Hemming followed with a free throw. Gardner and Wiess then each added a basket making the score 6 to 1 in La Crosse's favor. It was some time before either side scored again.

Atwood was now in form, and he started Janesville's scoring with a basket, at a difficult angle. Dalton followed with another. Now Janesville was safe, for the guards got down to business, and apparently cinched matters. The first half ended with Janesville leading by the score of 20 to 11.

In this half, Edler was the individual star. Many times, he dribbled through the entire La Crosse team, to bring the ball out of dangerous territory, while Capt. Falter remained back to guard the La Crosse basket. Falter started at sticking guard, and it was expected that he would be chosen with Edler as the all-star guards. He was placed on the second team with Edler on the first. Atwood played a great game at forward, and he well deserves the position as all-state forward.

In this half, Hemming played even with his man, each securing two baskets. Wiess was a little taller than Hemming, but he was unable to get the jump as many times as the local center. Dalton had a hard man against him and it took all he could do to follow this man. He made one more basket than did his opponent.

The second half was more evenly fought. Janesville gained a good lead and then they fell down a little, allowing La Crosse to score several baskets. In this half Wiess secured three baskets to Hemming's none, but this must not count against Hemming's great work, for the La Crosse center was lucky in this half, while Hemming played all around his man. Again Edler starred in this half. He caged four beautiful baskets, all of which were on long shots. The second half ended with Janesville leading for the half by the score of 18 to 13. The final score was 35 to 24.

The lineup and score is as follows: Janesville—Atwood, 1; Dalton, 1; Hemming, 6; Edler, 1; Captain Falter, 1; La Crosse—Zeisler, 1; Gardner, 1; Wiess, 6; Dornbach, 1; Kraus, 1; Wiehert, 1; Baskets—Atwood, 7; Edler, 5; Wiess, 5; Hemming, 2; Zeisler, 3; Dalton, 2; Dornbach, 1; Gardner, 1. Free throws—Hemming, 6; Wiess, 3.

Gifts—Zeisler, 1. Time of game—20 minute halves. Referee—F. G. Schroeder, of Iowa.

Notes on the Game. Edler was spoken of by many who witnessed the game, as having played the best guarding game ever witnessed on the Armory floor. Falter was also given many compliments, on his great work at sticking guard. These two guards played their last game for the Janesville high school against La Crosse, and they both just finished the most successful season of their many seasons for the Janesville high school.

Dalton had many fouls called on him throughout the three games, of the tournament and had he avoided this it is almost certain that Referee Schroeder would have placed him on one of his selections. He played a wonderful floor game against La Crosse.

Hemming well deserves the position as all-state center, and everyone who witnessed the games, was well satisfied with his great work both at basket shooting and also at his floor work.

Atwood sprang a great surprise in the tournament. He showed up better than ever before, and against Menominee he held their star right guard, V. Siple to no baskets while he secured five himself. He was easily the best forward in the tournament.

In the preliminary game Saturday night, the fast Menominee five defeated the Ashland team in a close game for third place in the tournament by the score of 31 to 20. This was about the closest game in the tournament.

Janesville closed its season Saturday by winning the state championship, and also by having won the Bejolt tournament earlier in the season. This gives the locals seventeen straight victories and a very successful season. It is the first time in the history of the school that a basketball five had made themselves known in championship circles, and the school are rejoicing as they have never rejoiced before over this victory of Saturday night.

The Question of Fit

Of the various considerations which influence a woman in the choice of her tailor, a reputation for skillful cutting is perhaps of greater importance than any other.

In this age of progress it behooves a tailor to possess—in addition to origination facilities—a perceptive and receptive mind, a knack of constantly picking up ideas, and the ability to give them practical effect and add to it that touch of individuality which makes the tailoring exceptional.

The Ideal Ladies' Tailoring Company's enormous business enables them to offer the services of skilled experts, and prices remaining yet so low as to make "THE BIG STORE'S VALUES" as UNAPPROACHABLE in this department as in all others. Our business has far exceeded all expectations, which proves conclusively that the most discerning women appreciate HAND-MADE-TO-ORDER GARMENTS.

A NATIONAL APPEAL.

"O Merciful God and Heavenly Father, who has taught us in Thy holy word that Thou dost not willingly afflict or grieve the children of men, give ear to the prayers which we humbly offer to Thee in behalf of our brethren who are suffering from the great water floods. Cause them in their sorrow to experience the comfort of Thy presence and in their bewilderment the guidance of Thy wisdom."

"Stir up, we beseech Thee, the wills of Thy people to minister with generous aid to their present needs, and so overrule in Thy providence this great and sore calamity that we may be brought nearer to Thee and be knit more closely one to another in sympathy and love. All which we humbly ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

This prayer was read at Trinity Episcopal church on Sunday by Rev. Henry Willmann. It was authorized by Bishop David H. Greer to be read in the Protestant Episcopal churches of the diocese of New York, and is an appeal to all mankind regardless of religious creeds or beliefs.

In every Janesville church on Sunday collections were taken for the sufferers of the floods of waters which swept over Ohio and Indiana, leaving in their trail desolation and death. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been raised already and hundreds of thousands more are needed to rehabilitate these stricken districts. Janesville has heard the appeal for aid and has answered it, but more funds are needed.

It is a general cause. It is a cause which should appeal to every home, to every business man. Towns, villages, cities, swept out of existence in one brief hour. From all parts of the nation aid is pouring into the stricken districts and the great lesson of the brotherhood of mankind is evidenced.

The appeal for financial aid has not reached deaf ears and Janesville is doing its share bravely and nobly. More money is needed, however, and should be subscribed at once. It will be forwarded without delay to the needy and suffering and today is the time to aid.

AN ASPECT OF POLITICS.

There is a general feeling of unrest in political circles just at the present time. There is a widespread demand for a change in methods rather than progress. An exchange, in discussing this problem, says it is visible in the perversities of decadent art, in music, cacophonous and unmelodious, designed apparently to surprise and startle at any cost; in literature which would have been suppressed by the police a generation ago, and in social conversation upon topics whose mere names would not have been breathed in any mixed assembly.

Our politicians and their pernicious activity might be explained, on the theory that the same heavy leaven is working in them. But there is another explanation more flattering to human vanity, and more promising of good to come. Much of the attitude of the politicians towards the corporations seems to be actuated by no better motive than revenge. Since their irregular profits were cut off, they are endeavoring to indemnify themselves by retaliatory legislation.

No harder blow to the politician's pocket was felt than when the railroad pass became illegal. This was a law which could be enforced, and it has already worked enormous benefit in the purifying of railroad management, which at one time required disinfecting as much as our politicians do now. Corporations also are declining to pay for protection against strike legislation, and a large source of illicit revenue has thereby been cut off. Perhaps the politician does not realize it, but under this heading would come vexatious regulating laws, the costly and unnecessary "full train crew" law, and other measures which will be familiar to everybody.

The situation will cure itself. A generation of politicians will succeed lacking the unholy experience of graft and corruption possessed by their predecessors. The whole country will be the gainer, and for the present, we must possess our souls in patience.

BOOSTING JANESVILLE.

As an outcome of the mass meeting on Friday evening last, called to discuss presenting Janesville's claims as a site for the state fair, a general citizens' movement is being organized with the slogan, "Twenty-five Thousand or Bust!" It is planned to hold a general citizens' meeting at the Myers theatre on April 15, at which time it is expected a permanent organization will be perfected and steps taken to begin a systematic boosting of Janesville.

In the early fifties, when the rush of immigration began across the then great plains of the west towards California and the golden land of promise, the slogan "Pike's Peak or Bust" encouraged the weary travelers to increase their efforts to surmount obstacles and gain the coveted goal. We heard "Fifty-four Forty or Fight," as a slogan for the settlement of the Oregon country, and so it has gone down in history. Today we have a brand new slogan, "Twenty-five Thousand or Bust!" and when Janesville citizens put their shoulders to the wheel something is bound to move.

This is a general mass meeting of citizens interested in the progress of Janesville. It is worthy of the support of every person who wants to see the city take its rightful place in the business world. Enthusiasm is needed; a general, concerted action necessary to insure success. So be prepared to attend the proposed meeting and ready to act in this question vital to the interests of all.

Tomorrow is election day. Every citizen should vote and vote right for the selection of judge of the probate court. It is an important office and the best man among the candidates should be selected to fill it.

March came in like a lion and the old adage says it will go out like a lamb. However, the present lamb much resembles a wolf in sheep's clothing and not the genuine spring variety.

One of the nature fakes not discussed in polite circles is the appearance of the book bear sign in March when the temperature is hovering around zero.

Pittsburgh has started a crusade against treating. Too many of its millionaires have moved to New York to make it profitable, perhaps.

One of the great charms in baseball is that if you can not play yourself you can easily qualify as an expert critic.

Janesville is in line for consideration as a state fair location if the fair is going to be moved from Milwaukee.

The Bulgarians continue to win victories while the Powers are contemplating stopping the strife.

Though the floods have receded the need for help is still at high tide, and may even go higher yet.

Is Mexico really quiet or is the Huerta censorship effective.

AT THE MOMENT

Ask Tom Marshall. Of all the things I'd like to be—I'm no ambitious gent—I'd really would just tickle me to be vice president. A feller could drop out of sight and feller his own bent.

There would be nothing much to do. The pay is not so bad. No journalists would hang around to roast each whim and fad. No office-seekers' stickin' by To drive a feller mad.

They talk about the simple life That brings peace and content; The joy of being all alone. A boon that's heaven sent. The simplest method known is just To be vice president.

What Was the Matter? The automobile gave one final despairing heave and stopped dead still near the park. The young man whose father owned the machine climbed down and looked it over, rolled up his sleeves and got busy. He knew as much about the machine as the average congressman knows about the tariff and that is very little. The first man came along with advice. "Take it from me, friend, your carburetor is on the blink," said he, and passed on. The young man got busy with what he supposed was the carburetor and the second man came along. "It's the spark plug," said he, and the young man removed several more pieces of machinery in an effort to locate the spark plug, being almost afraid that he would find it. "It's the feed pipe," suggested a third. "Your ignition is wrong," said a fourth. "You've dropped the ash pan," ventured the fifth. "The eccentric is caught on the gearwhilliker," said the sixth. But this time the young man had everything apart but the frame and the wheels and his car was scattered over half of the park lawn. Finally he had a glimmering of an idea and telephoned for a mechanic. The expert arrived, unscrewed the cap of the gasoline tank, gave a disgusted snort and said: "How do you expect to run this car—on wind? What you need is a nickel's worth of gasoline." And the garage repair bill was $97.85.

Dr. Slammer and Mr. Winkle are about to fight a duel, which is prevented by the timely discovery that Jingle and not Winkle is the man who insulted the Doctor. A most extraordinary and humorous affair.

PART TWO embodies "The Adventure of Westgate Seminary," in which Pickwick, through Job Trotter, Jingle's chum, makes a wild goose chase to the young ladies' seminary to prevent Jingle from eloping with one of the girls. This scheme of Jingle's gives Jingle and Job Trotter a chance to get away and escape the discovery of their rascality. ## JANESVILLE PLANS TO ENTER TOURNEY AT EVANSTON, ILL.

Victorious High School Five Now Seeks to Contend for Middle Western Honors.

The enthusiasm which prevailed
last night in honor of the local high school basketball five, have not as yet diminished. Efforts were started this morning to secure support for the purpose of sending the team to the Northwestern university meet at Evanston, Ill., to decide the championship of the middle west. Teams from Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Iowa, Ohio, Minnesota, Michigan and North Dakota will be represented in this great interscholastic tournament. The business men of this city have pushed this affair, and petitions were sent around the city this morning in order to raise enough money in which to pay the entire cost of the squad to this meet. About twenty-five dollars was raised up to noon today. The tournament at Evanston takes up the last three days of this week, and the locals feel that they have a fighting chance to bring home the second great title of the year.

Several of the students started this movement with the aid of many of our business men. Dr. Buckmaster thought that Janesville should be represented at this meet, after their great showing at Appleton last week.
Captain Butler stated this morning that his team would be ready to capture the title at Evanston if such a thing was possible. The team is in the best of condition and is hoping for more victories.

One thing of importance must be noted. The champion football team from last fall, combined with the champion basketball team of this spring, have kept up in their studies all through the year. They have been very successful in their school work, as well as in athletics, and Professor Buell is proud to make the statement, that the three championship aggregations are ranking high in their courses of study.

STREET IMPROVEMENT WILL SOON COMMENCE

Gund & Graham May Start Work on Milwaukee Avenue in Another Week.—To Pave Three Blocks.

Grading and excavation on Milwaukee avenue, between Oak and Harrison streets, preliminary to laying a macadam pavement, will probably be started some time next week if weather conditions are favorable according to George Croft, superintendent for Gund & Graham & Company, the contractors. Under favorable circumstances the pavement should be completed in from three to four weeks. Eleven hundred cubic yards of earth will have to be excavated and hauled away to prepare the subgrade, and 1000 cubic yards of crushed stone will be needed to lay the 2307 square yards of pavement.

Contract for the improvement of three blocks of Jefferson avenue is held by P. W. Ryan & Sons, who are expecting to begin work at an early date. A combined gravel and macadam pavement will be put down. The gravel coat will be three inches deep in the center and two at the curb, and the macadam coat which will cover it, is to have the same proportionate depth when rolled and compacted.

Gund & Graham will roll the entire length of Washington street paved last summer and fall from Main and Point Avenue to the city limits. They will also cut down a bank near the cemetery so that a sidewalk can be laid when desired, and fix the pavement just outside the new Mercy Hospital. A sewer extending to a man-hole on the opposite side of the street was laid during the winter, leaving a depression to mark where the trench was dug. The trolley track sweeper lifted the surface of a part of the pavement between the rails that had not been compacted by traffic, and this will also be repaired. The city will make arrangements to fill the street as soon as possible after it is rolled.

ROCK RIVER FLOOD FAILS TO RECEDE

Water Remains Near High Water
Mark Due to Swollen Streams
At Its Source.

Rock river continues to hover around the high water mark and has not receded to any great extent during the past week. Yesterday the water registered thirty-six inches—only two inches lower than its highest point this year. This morning the water gauge was at the thirty-five and a half mark, showing little reduction in twenty-four hours.

The high water has caused great trouble at the electric light plants and the big seven hundred and fifty horse-power steam turbine was put to work this morning as the water wheels developed little power. This turbine was installed at the main plant for emergency and is capable of developing thirty-six inches of water, but the company has no sufficient boiler power to operate the turbine for any length of time. An export from the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee was at the plant this morning superintending the running of it.

Numerous reasons have been given as to why the water still is so high and it is thought the small tributaries of the river are badly swollen and supply abundance of water from snow in the marshes and woods that has been held back until warm weather. Horicon marsh, at the head of the river, supplies great quantities of water during the flood season. Several small creeks that flow into Lake Koshkonong, especially the Koshkonong and the Mud creeks, have been dredged nearly to their source and with the drainage canals that have been built within the last few years, draining the large marshes in that vicinity that heretofore had no adequate outlet, supply great quantities of flood water that in previous years have been gradually flowed into the lake. Evansville marsh also furnishes a large overflow of water because of its recent draining. With all these dredged creeks and canals and the numerous small rivers and creeks that flow into the Rock below the lake it is probable it will be some time before the river will recede to its normal depth.

Warm weather made work possible at the upper railroad bridge which the Cleary-White Construction company is rebuilding for the railroad, and the force of sixty men was divided between making forms for the concrete slabs that are to form the roadbed of the track and a smaller force of men were engaged in building molds, at the two ends of the bridge where cement will be poured in to make the end foundations.

High water has caused the diver to stop work, as the swift current makes it impossible to work under water impossible. As soon as the water lowers he will be put to work and the finishing of the coffer dams will be pushed with all possible speed.

BEGIN FINLEY CASE IN CIRCUIT COURT

Janesville Man Suing St. Paul Railroad Company for $15,000—Jury is Taken to Scene of Accident.

Trial of the case of Richard E. Finley of this city who is suing the St.
Paul railroad company for damages to compensate him for injuries received in an accident on a crossing near Hanover, June 13, 1912, was started this afternoon in the circuit court. Judge Grimm in the circuit court this afternoon. The jury which was drawn several weeks ago, was taken to the scene of the accident by automobile following the opening statements of the counsel, M. O. Mount for the plaintiff, and C. H. Van Alstine for the company. Judge Grimm will adjourn the court until tomorrow afternoon in order to give the jurors an opportunity to view tomorrow morning. It is expected that the case will occupy several days for trial.

Several other matters came before the court this afternoon. The case of Ben Oupshl against Chester J. U.
Garde, town clerk of the town of Avon,
which was a motion to amend the returns of the town clerk, was taken under advisement. In the case of S. P.
Gilbert et al. vs. Carl Anden et al., on the motion of E. D. McGowan for the plaintiff S. P. Gilbert was appointed receiver during the pendency of foreclosure action.

A judgment of sale and partition of real estate was rendered by the court in the case of John J. McCarthy vs. Margaret Dee et al. W. H. Dougherty made the motion for the plaintiff and E. D. McGowan appeared for the minor children making no defense.

The matter of the Beloit injunction case which came before Judge Grimm was taken under advisement and upon his decision will rest the matter of costs as the injunction will remain in force until after election.

HEARING ON RAILWAY SERVICE IS CALLED

Rate Commission Will Listen to Evidence as to Adequacy of Janesville-Fond du Lac Train Service.

Evidence and arguments as to the adequacy of the train service on the Chicago & Northwestern Railway between Janesville and Fond du Lac will be received at hearings to be held at the city hall in Janesville on April 11, and at Jefferson on April 10 according to a notice received from the Wisconsin Railway Commission this morning by Mayor James A. Fathers. These hearings are the outcome of a series of complaints made to the Commission and are for the purpose of learning the public sentiment as to proposed improvements. A representative of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway recently visited the cities along the Janesville-Fond du Lac line for a similar purpose and acquainted the Commission with the company's proposals.

The notice of the hearings in full
was as follows:

Before the Railway Commission of Wisconsin.

In the matter of the investigation of the commission of the service of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway between Janesville and Fond du Lac:

Whereas the Railroad Commission of Wisconsin is satisfied upon due investigation of the train service of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway between Janesville and Fond du Lac that grounds exist to warrant a hearing on the question of the adequacy and sufficiency of such service; therefore

It is ordered that on notice of the said commission, on the tenth day of April, 1913, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, at the city hall in the city of Jefferson, and on the 11th day of April, 1913, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon,
in the city hall in the city of Janesville,
the Railroad Commission of Wisconsin will proceed to hold a hearing on the matter of the adequacy of the service

CONTRACT LET FOR LUTHERAN CHURCH

E. Pautz is Given Contract for Building
Of German Lutheran Church
And Will Start Work Soon.

Contracts for building the new German Lutheran church, which is to be constructed at the corner of North Bluff and Peace Court, facing Bluff street, has been awarded to E. Pautz and work will be started in the near future. The church promises to be one of the most beautiful in this city, the gothic style of architecture being prominent in all pillars and ornaments.
The structure is to be built of tile and colonial style brick having the trimmings in dark brown and the building itself in a lighter shade to bring out a contrast. Large gothic pillars are to grace the entrance and with large stained windows, will present a most pleasing appearance. The tower is to be fifty-six feet in height and graced with ornaments. From the main entrance the doorway will lead into a spacious corridor. The auditorium will have an elevated floor such as are being installed in all modern churches. On the pulpit platform the plans shows careful preparation and the space for the chair and organ is provided for in the most satisfactory manner.

The roof is to be arched with good acoustic qualities and with gothic ornaments. The plans call for a large basement, having a school and class rooms and kitchen. The foundation is to be of cement and tile. Janesville's beautiful churches will be enriched with this addition and the congregation and pastors have a right to be justly proud of their efforts. The estimated cost of the building independent of the fixtures, heating plant and glazing is fourteen thousand dollars.

SKUNK VIA PARCEL POST HALTED BY POSTMASTER

Clinton, March 31.—Since the inauguration of the parcel post system numerous deliveries over the new system have attracted wide attraction, such as sending of money to busy business men and one industrious milk dealer patented a bottle whereby he could send his products to Chicago consumers through the mail. But an incident happened at Clinton which is stronger than any attempts to send strong things through the mail.

A village trapper wished to send a prize skunk skin through by parcel post and presented it at the window of the Clinton postoffice all wrapped up in a neat and attractive bundle. The postmaster, Mr. Helmer, could easily detect the odor. The closer the bundle the stronger the smell. Experienced possibly had taught him from what source that particular smell came from. It did not take him long to discover that the neat and innocent parcel contained the hide of a healthy skunk and it took him less time to refuse to send it. Mr. Helmer had pity on the mail clerks for when the pet had increased in strength with age those that would be forced to handle odoriferous package that would be attractively stamped and marked would be suffocated.

JOSEPH POTOMACK
ELUDES PURSUERS

Calls For Goods Shipped to Chicago In Company With Stranger and Then Disappears From Sight.

Joseph Potomack, proprietor of the Paris Ladies' Tailoring Company, who disappeared from this city Friday, taking with him, it is alleged, a large quantity of mortgaged goods, is still at liberty. Sheriff Whipple, who went to Chicago Saturday morning to take possession of the goods shipped to that city by Potomack, learned that an old man, who represented himself as H. Goldberg, the name of the consignee had called for them at the express office about twenty-four hours earlier.

With him was another man, whose description led the officer to believe was Mr. Potomack. The man who represented himself as H. Goldberg drove an unlicensed wagon. A brother of Potomack, who bears the name of Matti, resides in Chicago, and it is believed that Potomack may have taken refuge with him. Matti Potomack holds a card in the tailors' union, but could not be found Saturday as it was the Jewish Sabbath and he was not at work. Chicago detectives are working on the case. It is alleged that claims against Potomack total a large figure, and affect many persons with whom he has had dealings. His family left the city with him.

CARDINALS DEFEAT FAST RACINE TEAM

Playing Superior Ball During the Early Stages of Game Enabled Cardinals to Win—Score 17 to 11.

While the Janesville high school team was trimming the La Crosse team thereby winning the state championship at Appleton the Janesville Cardinals defeated the Horlick Racine team in a hotly contested game by the score of 17 to 11. The Racine team was well versed in the basketball playing but were snowed under by the fast dribbling and individual playing of the Cardinals.

Janesville played superior ball in every respect and soon after the start it was evident that the game was theirs. Manager Langdon had prepared to send a much stronger lineup against the Horlick team but Harper, who was to take the place of Wilkinson, sustained an injury to his ankle and was unable to play under the coach's orders. With a weakened lineup the Janesville team walked away from the Belle City team and never were in danger of defeat. Korst, all-state forward of last year's high school team, played in one forward position while Cunningham held down the other. Green played center and he with Langdon, were the stars of the game. Janesville was able to win because of using the dribbling style of game they were able to circle around the visitors' guards and score. During the first half Janesville ran away from their opponents under the intercollegiate style of playing and the score at the end of this half was 11 to 2. Racine only scoring one field basket. During the second half the Racine team played better ball being able to use their passing to a better advantage under the A. A. U. rules.

Racine presented a stronger team than the score indicated as their team was composed of former high school players several of them playing at the tournament three years ago when the local high school defeated them and won third place. They were all good passers but made a fatal mistake in attempting too long passes and shots. Rarely did they have an easy shot at the basket because of Janesville's close guarding.

The Cardinals are to finish their season on the next game and arrangements are being made to have a final game with the champion high school team. Langdon has signified his intentions of strengthening his lineup with the addition of Harper and Davies from the varsity and with these players the contest should be the game of games.

Racine—C. Jandle, right forward; O. Jandle, left forward; Maxted, center; Spencer, right guard; Meloin, left guard.

Field goals—C. Jandle, 1; O. Jandle, 2; Maxted, 1; Cunningham, 1; Korst, 2; Green, 2; Langdon, 2. Foul goals—Spencer, 1; Langdon, 2.

Theater

"BROADWAY JONES."

The happiest audiences in America are those to be found at a George M. Cohan play, and his newest one entitled "Broadway" Jones is no exception. George M. Cohan has furnished many interesting entertainments for America's great army of amusement seekers, but it is conceded that in "Broadway" Jones, he has provided a play that will endure, for the reason that it breathes of real life, love and laughter amidst scenes that are enacted in an atmosphere of absolute cleanliness. "Broadway" Jones will be seen at Myers Theatre, Friday, April 4th.

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR."

Eleven clergymen, five lecturers on the drama, and numerous branches of the Drama League of America, have endorsed George Broadhurst's "Bought and Paid For" which comes to the Myers Theatre, Tuesday evening, April 8.

The Open Car Window.

The rule as to windows in passenger cars in Germany has been that they must not be opened on both sides of the car without the consent of all occupying the compartment, but on city and suburban trains in Berlin neither window in the front compartment of each car may be opened without such unanimous consent.

"Improved" Bull Fight.

A bull fight in Tokio is quite as much excuse for a gala day as a bull fight in Madrid. Business men leave their offices, and women and children their homes, to hurry to the arena. Stripped of all the less exciting, or less horrible, preliminaries which characterize the Spanish bull fight, the animals are brought in and sent at each other at once. So the battle is shorter, and two or three more fights will follow in quick succession during the course of an afternoon's "entertainment."

A Chi-Namel Demonstration That is Different

You can ask the Demonstrator to show you any Chi-Namel product you may be interested in, actually applied.

For instance—White Enamel, Porch Furniture Enamel, Gold and Aluminum Paint, Varnish Remover (the kind that softens old varnish so it can be washed off with a common scrub brush and clear water) Floor Wax Furniture Polish, Mission Stains, Colored Varnishes for staining and varnishing with one application.

She will not merely show you the package containing these materials, but show it in the brush, and applied before your eyes—in fact, you can take the brush and apply it yourself.

You can see the actual colors—see how easy it is to apply—how all brush marks disappear before it hardens.

This will be a demonstration worth while for any one who is responsible for the care and good appearance of the interior woodwork and furniture of a home.

By asking for a demonstration of any particular Chi-Namel product you will not place yourself under obligation to buy; this demonstration is to acquaint the public with the use and economy of Chi-Namel in the home.

MISS HELEN COLONY DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Colony's Daughter, Aged 19 Years, Passes Away After Two Days' Illness.

Evansville, March 31.—At eleven thirty p. m., Saturday, Helen Colony, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Colony of this city, passed away after only a few days' illness. Deceased would have been nineteen years of age next November and leaves to mourn her loss, her parents, two sisters, Marguerite and Charlotte, and one brother, Oliver, beside the entire community, who mourn with and sympathize with the grieving relatives.

She was a member of the high school senior class, would have graduated in June, and had an important part in the class and commencement exercises. Several out of town physicians were called in consultation, but life fled on Saturday night.

It is expected that funeral services will be conducted at the house at 2:30 and 3:00 at the Episcopal church Tuesday afternoon unless later telegrams arrive from far distant relatives.

Daylight Will Be Longer Than Twelve Hours Each During Coming Thirty Days.

With the passing of the vernal equinox, days will become longer and the nights shorter. On Tuesday, April 1, the sun will rise at 5:40 and set at 6:24, and the days will slowly lengthen during the month, and April 31 the sun will rise at 4:53 and set at 5:57, according to astronomical data for April.

The astronomers also say that Mercury will be fairly well situated as a morning star the latter part of the month and will reach greatest elongation west April 25, at which time it may be seen at dawn over the horizon a little south of the east point. Mars, distinguished by its red color, at the same time will be higher and somewhat farther south, while the brilliant Jupiter will be near the meridian far to the south. Saturn has almost disappeared from observation, but may still be seen over the northwestern horizon in the early evening. Venus, which has so long been the brilliant evening star, is descending rapidly towards the sun and will pass through inferior conjunction April 24, after which it will be a morning star. There will be a partial eclipse of the sun April 6, the middle time of which will be 11:33 a. m. This eclipse will not be visible in this part of the country, but will be seen from the northwest portion of North America, the east end of Siberia and the north Pacific ocean.

The times of sunrise and sunset for the month are as follows:

Sunrise—April 1 at 5:40; April 11 at 5:22; April 21 at 5:07; April 31 at 4:53.

Sunset—April 1, 6:24; April 11, 6:35; April 21 at 6:46; April 30 at 6:57.

National Canned Foods Week Now In Progress

Plan to Buy Some Canned Goods This Week.

Here are Some Reasons Why You Should Buy Hohenadel Goods:

This is our thirteenth year of successful operation. From the first our business has shown development increasing year by year, until today we operate in Janesville the largest canning and packing factory in the state. We attribute our large and growing business to the "Quality" and "Purity" of our goods.

At Our Factory Strictly Sanitary Conditions Prevail

Our goods are guaranteed under the United States Pure Food Act of June 30, 1906, and will pass the most rigid Pure Food laws of any individual state in the Union. Each can of our goods must pass through the hands of from 4 to 6 expert inspectors before being put on the market.

Visitors Welcome

Visitors are welcome to call at any time and inspect this plant and view the interesting way in which modern food products are gotten ready for the market.

At Every Grocery

Our products will be found in every grocery store in Janesville and vicinity. We wholesale only. Specify our brands when you order canned goods and you will get the very utmost in quality at popular prices. If your grocer should be just out of our brands he can easily get them for you and will if you ask him.

Buy Janesville Made Goods

Don't spend your money for foreign made goods. Rather buy goods you are familiar with—home grown and home made goods—Hohenadel goods. You will make no mistake when you tell the grocer you want any of the following named brands. The brands are divided into three grades: Fancy, Extra and Standard.

Grades and Names

1, Fancy: Maple Leaf, Bower City and Dewey Brands.
2, Extra: Pride of Janesville, Key West and Riverview Brands.
3, Standard: Badger State, A. 1., and Homelike Brands.

A Wise Way To Purchase

Many housewives find it a wise plan to purchase these goods in lots of three to six cases each of the different kinds. There is an advantage in always having a supply on hand. And, too, many grocers give a discount from the regular price on purchases of this kind.

The Evening Chit-Chat
BY RUTH CAMERON

HOW TO HELP THE GOVERNMENT.

DO YOU read the prelates and foot notes in books, and the printed directions that come with the articles you buy? Nine women out of ten never glance at such things; men are more apt to. There is a certain brand of canned peas which the whole neighborhood uses. The other evening when we were helping to prepare an impromptu tiffin at Molly's house, the Man-Who-Thinks was delegated to open a can of these peas. Before doing so he carefully perused the printed matter on the outside, and this is what he read: "These peas are colored with copper sulphate."

"Goodness," said Molly, "I never saw that before." None of us had, and yet it had been there all the time, and we have been using that brand for years. Whether a small quantity of copper sulphate is harmful we do not yet know. But whether it is or not, there is no question that we should have read what was written on that can.

We ought to be ashamed of ourselves, and so should all the women who do not take advantage of the protection which pure food legislation offers them. As you know, the pure food laws provide that when certain coloring matter and preservatives of questionable salubrity are used, this fact shall be stated on the can or box.

Thus the Government comes half way in protecting the individual from the dangers of impure food. But unless the individual comes the other half way and takes the trouble to read these warnings, the efforts of the Government are useless.

To think that three-quarters of us are too careless, or too lazy or too indifferent to do our part!

Isn't that a painful commentary on the American character? In some of the little basement stores in the slums of the big cities, where violently colored sodas are dispensed for a penny a glass, the proprietors observe the law by boldly hanging above their fountains the sign, "This soda is highly adulterated." How do they dare to do it? Because they know that the poor, ignorant folks will think that fine sounding phrase means that the soda is extra good.

No doubt the manufacturers who supply us with our canned goods feel a similar confidence in our indifference to any warning they may print.

It is every woman's duty to do what she can to get good legislation, but we must not forget that we have a further duty, and that is to make the legislation already have as effective as possible. And every woman can do that in this particular by reading the printed matter on the outside of all the goods that come into her kitchen.

he does not seem to alter. I think he is getting worse. He goes into saloons and neglects his children, and sometimes comes home and insults me. Kindly let me know if the best thing is to leave him.

ENGLISH.
If you had not been so young you would have known that a woman loses all chance of reforming a man when she marries him BEFORE he reforms. If your husband abuses you and the children and does not support you, take the matter to court.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

THEY love shall chant its own beauties after its own self working. A child's kiss set upon sighing lips shall make these glad, a poor man served by these shall make these rich, a sick man helped by these shall make these strong. Thou shalt be served thyself by every sense of service which thou renderest.

DAINTY DISHES.

When one likes a change in serving cheese the following may be one which will be pleasing. Mix cream cheese with a little cream, enough to make of the right consistency; season highly with salt and cayenne, onion juice, Worcestershire sauce and minced parsley. Form in a roll, lay on a paper dolly on a pretty plate with a small cheese knife, and pass, allowing each person to slice off as he desires. "This cheese may be sliced for sandwich filling."

It may be spread on wafers and served with lettuce salad, or may be served on lettuce as a salad, with a salad dressing preferred.

Frozen Custard.—A delicious frozen dish may be prepared as follows: To a quart of milk add three well beaten eggs and a cup of sugar; cook until smooth, and freeze until like mush, then add a fourth of a pound each of walnut meats and steamed and chopped figs. Finish freezing, and serve.

Apple and Maple Syrup.—Cut eight apples in quarters, after peeling them; put into a saucepan with a cup of maple syrup, two tablespoonsful of butter and one and a half cups of water. Bake until the syrup is thick. Serve cold, with whipped cream.

Orange Charlotte.—Soften two and a half tablespoonsful of gelatin in half a cup of cold water, add a half cup of boiling water, a cup of sugar, a cup of orange juice, the rind of an orange grated, two tablespoonsful of lemon juice and the whip from three cups of cream. Line the mold with sections of orange and chill. Serve with a thin custard, if desired.

Nellie Maxwell.

PRETTY FROCK OF RASPBERRY SERGE

Practical frock of raspberry red serge. Sections of black satin form the vest, belt and bow tie. Sections of colored embroidery form an effective trimming with the addition of buttons and loops. The belt is also trimmed with a tab of this embroidery of sleeves are of plaid serge tulle. Satin to match the material forms the revers and turnover collar. Shot seams run down the back of the waist and skirt and down each side of the skirt.

Eye Photographs.
Nearly everybody knows that we see objects as pictures on the retina of the eye. Out of this fact, doubtless, there sprang up the popular belief, amounting in some quarters to superstition, that "pictures" may be seen in the eyes of dead men.—Harper's Weekly.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

The Table.
Banana Pudding—This is not only delicious and inexpensive, but makes a nice appearance.

Slice two large bananas thin in an oblong dish. Take one pint milk, set on fire to heat. Mix two tablespoons of cornstarch with a little milk or water, add to the milk and let boil up well, then add the yolks of two eggs beaten; flavor with a little grated orange rind or vanilla. Pour over the bananas. Then take about half dozen lady fingers, separate and cut each in half. Stand them up all around edge of dish. Beat the whites of eggs stiff with two tablespoons of sugar. Drop in little mounds on top of pudding. Set in oven long enough to brown delicately. If bananas are disliked other fruit may be substituted.

Chocolate Pudding—Three eggs, one cup of sugar, four tablespoons milk, one small cup flour, two teaspoons baking powder; yolk and sugar beaten light; two squares of chocolate melted; add whites last. Stir very little after adding the whites. Steam one hour.

Kitchen Discoveries.
That you should never use soda for washing enamel pans. A little salt or fine ash applied with a soft cloth will remove all stains, and the pan should be thoroughly rinsed afterward in warm water.

That you should not let tins rust.

After these have been washed and dried it is a good plan to place them near the fire for a while. This prevents any chance of their rusting.

That if all dishcloths and tea-cloths are soaped and well rinsed out every time they are used they will be no trouble at all to keep clean. It is much wiser to have three or four cloths in use than one or two stained and greasy ones.

That to keep the coffee-pot sweet and clean you should put a tablespoon of carbonate of soda into it, fill it nearly full of water and let it boil for a while. Then rinse very thoroughly with several lots of warm water. If this is done once a week the pot will always be fresh and nice. That scorch marks, unless very bad (when, of course, there is no cure) may be removed from linen in the following way: Cut an onion in halves and rub the scorched part with it; then soak in cold water. You will find that the marks will soon disappear after this treatment.

Things Worth Knowing.

To Mend China—Mix a thick solution of gum arabic with plaster of paris until it becomes like cream. Apply with a brush. It cannot be broken in same place.

I have read many ways of clearing hot soup, but nothing so simple as my way. Simply strain it through a cloth that has been wrung out in cold water.

A Woman in the Case

HOW significant of the progress we are making is the new interpretation of that phrase, "A woman in the case."

Once upon a time, and not so very long ago either, it was said with a shrug or a menacing glance of the eye, and was almost invariably indicative of the unpleasant, or of the scandalous.

But now what a change.

You hear of the unsanitary bakeries of a town being cleaned up, and somebody is sure to remark, "Well, you can count on it, some woman has had a hand in that."

You hear of a movement to prevent child labor, and you know without saying it that woman is at the bottom of the effort.

You hear of some village making an effort for civic beauty, and you say, "There's a woman back of it."

You are taken through the slums of a city and their clean, attractive appearance pointed out with pride, and you are told, "We have a woman inspector now, and this is her work. You should have seen what they were like before."

Brownwood, Texas, recently won the prize offered for the cleanest town in Texas. One would know without being told that it was a matter of "A woman in the case," several of them; in fact. For when the inauguration of the "clean town contest" was announced, one woman of Brownwood interested others, and through their clubs, they went to work with a will, with the result that their town is the model for cleanliness and sanitary conditions of a state larger than the German Empire.

And so it goes. The woman in the case nowadays is in it, whatever it may be, for betterment. She is in it for uplift. Where there is cruelty to animals, short weights in groceries, overstudy in schools, unjust prices for food, in fact wherever there is a wrong that needs righting, you will find today, "A woman in the case," fighting for the right.

And isn't this bigger and finer indication of women's status not only a hopeful but a glorious promise of what awaits her, now that she is securing a place in the world's activities?

Barbara Boyd.

Domestic Science DEPARTMENT
CONDUCTED BY Mrs. Alice Mitchell Kirk

Children's Housekeeping.
Beds made in a hurry. A fret and a worry. Are always unhealthy. And musty 'tis sure; But left for an airing. Pains-taking and caring. And one must sleep sweetly. To know it is pure.

All boys and girls should learn as soon as large enough, and that is about ten years of age, to air and make their own beds. It means much for them in cleanliness and sanitation, not only while they are young, but in years after when they leave home.

I lived with a family once where there was a young man occupying a room. The mistress of that house said it was a pleasure to go to his room to make the bed, for there was nothing to put in order. Every morning he threw back all the covers, shook up the pillows and left the room with the window raised to its height, winter or summer, unless stormy. We may be quite sure this young man received his training when a child at home.

Think how many hours we are in bed with the bodies throwing off waste matter. It is necessary to shake and air covers and blankets often and wash them when soiled. Sheets and pillow cases are changed once and sometimes twice a week. In cases of illness the bed is changed every day and the sheets and pillow cases from such a bed should not be left in the clothes basket but washed every day. Mattresses become matted and hard and very uncomfortable shaking and airing.

So, children, keep your beds clean, well aired and perfectly made. Never allow anyone to sit on your bed or wraps to be put there, your own or those of strangers. Too much cannot be said in favor of the clean bed and the ventilation of the bedroom for health.

Fourth—In making the bed always have the broad hems of the sheets at the head.

Fifth—Put the under sheet on right side up, fold well under the mattress until tight and smooth, with no wrinkles. If the sheet is long enough tuck in well at the head.

Sixth—Put the upper sheet on wrong side up, drawing it up just to the head of the bed, fold under carefully at the foot and corners but not at the sides.

Seventh—Place the blanket or comfort about one quarter yard from the hem of the upper sheet and tuck in foot and corners.

Eighth—Fold the sheet down over the covers. Notice that the right side of the hem shows. Tuck all in at the sides of the bed, but not under the mattress.

Ninth—Put on the spread and smooth very carefully and tightly. If of the plain kind tuck in at the sides, if scalloped or fancy let it hang smooth and straight. Take off at night and fold back over the foot of the bed.

Tenth—Shake up the pillow which has been well aired, then press flat, lay at the head and lay over a pillow sham to match the spread, all of it being in one piece. If no shams are used put the closed ends of the pillows together.

PRETTY GOWN OF BROADCLOTH

An effective model developed in iron-gray broadcloth. A touch of color is produced by sections and buttons of ruby-colored velvet. Still braiding to match the material is worked in bands to form trimming. Eke of all-over white lace. The waist is laid in a deep plait at each side. The skirt-tunic is turned up and caught at the back beneath a strap of the embroidery.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS
BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have kept company with a girl nearly two years and now another fellow calls at her place by daytime. Would it be right for me to call in the evening?

ELIZABETH THOMPSON.

If you care for the girl, marry her and keep the other fellow away.

FOR WORRIED—Go to the girl, apologize for your bad temper and foolishness; tell her you know that no man is good enough for her, but ask her if she won't take you on trial as a friend, anyway, for a while. If she is willing to do that, make yourself as agreeable as possible. Give her a good meal, give her flowers and candy, be considerate of her feelings and as soon as possible ask her to marry you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will you please tell me how to make oily hair nice and fluffy without injuring same? Also not to turn the hair darker, for it is a blond, but very greasy and it falls out something terrible. It is worse since I have been using a hair tonic on it.

Mix together 2 oz. alcohol, 2 oz. witch hazel and 14 grains resorcin. Use daily, rubbing it into the scalp.

Hundred Year Clubs

Believe Life May Be Prolonged.

Men who are devoting their lives to the study of longevity believe that in days to come a man of ninety will be in his prime, and old age will begin long past a hundred years.

Scientists have proved that the simple life, temperate habits, exercise, and an active mind are essential to a long and happy life.

When the blood gets thin and sluggish and creeps lazily through the veins, and the arteries begin to harden, there is nothing that will enrich the blood, improve the circulation and restore strength to every back-sliding organ in the body so quickly as our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol. Here is proof.

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown, Pa., at 83 years of age was so weak she had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair—she writes that after taking a few bottles of Vinol she could take long walks and do her household work. That shows how Vinol strengthens old people.

Try Vinol on our guarantee that it will do you good or cost you nothing. Smith Drug Co., Janesville, Wis.

ORDER THAT Monument Now

Ordered now it will be ready to set in time for Memorial Day. Ordered now it will naturally have more time in the job than when the rush season comes—a more perfect job.

And, too, the selection of marble or granite is larger and better now. In a word, now is the time to order that monument.

Sport Snap Shots

Jim Moroney, pitcher with the Detroit Tigers last year, spent so much time playing practical jokes that he had no leisure to pitch ball good enough to keep him in the American League. Columbus of the American Association now harbors him and his tricks. The other night he filled the bed of his roommate with scrap iron. He himself retired to sleep the sleep of the innocent. When he arose his clothes were missing. Some time later he discovered them on the floor, underneath the scrap iron.

Saratoga may be the only New York track to open its gates for racing in the coming season. The New York City tracks, Aqueduct, Gravesend, Sheepshead Bay and Jamaica, will not re-open under present conditions, which seem to make such a move inadvisable. Belmont Park and Brighton Beach are still out of commission and no action has been taken to rehabilitate them. Saratoga alone is ready and certain to make the best of the recent court decision.

The first time Pitcher Eddie Cicotte of the Chicago White Sox sent his famous knuckle ball tumbling toward the home plate recruit catcher Gossett bugged his eyes out about six inches in surprise. Eddie has been surprising the veterans, too, with his speed and curves. In spite of the fact that Cicotte has a charley horse and has been afflicted with a sore arm, he has exhibited form which make the western critics think that he will be a big help to the White Sox this year and will be able to help Walsh, Lange, Scott and White twist the Callahan boys into a desirable position in the American League race.

Nick Altrock, pitching hero of years gone by with the Chicago White Sox, is counted as a hurling possibility with the Washington team this year. He came to the Washington team from Milwaukee of the American Association last year, in order to act as Germany Schaefer's partner in the high comedy coaching stunt. Nick has been working out well in practice this spring and may be used as a relief pitcher.

THREE JANESVILLE MEN ON FIRST TEAM

Coach Schroeder Names Atwood, Hemming and Edler on His All-State High School Five.

Referee F. G. Schroeder of Iowa, and Mark Cadlin, who officiated at all of the tournament games at Appleton, picked their all-state teams just preceding the Janesville-La Crosse game Saturday night. His selections seem to be generally thought as near correct as possible. It is a hard matter to pick these teams, and Mr. Schroeder used good judgment in his selection. Three Janesville men were awarded positions on the first team, while one of the local men was given a place on the second team. The teams were picked on the basis of their individual work, their floor work, their basket shooting and their lack of fouling. The teams are as follows:

With the winning of the state championship the Janesville high school has accomplished great honor, but besides this it has demonstrated that athletics in the local school are above that of any other high school in this state. This fact is verified by the placing of three Janesville players on the all-state team. This year's high school teams have achieved any record in the history of the high school, having only one defeat in football, and that in the state championship game, and having won seventeen straight victories in basketball, a record that will undoubtedly stand for some time to come. Every member of this year's basketball team has responded with the best of his efforts and every player was a star in certain phases of the game.

Captain Faltner has made an enviable record in his high school career and his steady play has been an important factor in the local success. While he is not as brilliant a player as his position mate, his playing is always steady and never fails in the execution of his part in the plays. His hundred and eighty pounds of bone and muscle has proven a stiff obstacle for opposing forwards to score over. Throughout the season he has held his man to a remarkably small number of baskets. It was the most difficult matter to choose between him and Simpson for the all-state team.

With the picking of Edler as an all-state player also goes the high compliment that was paid to him by the Milwaukee Sentinel, which stated that he was the best running guard ever seen at the Appleton contests. His playing throughout the season was most brilliant and at running guard he invariably scored more baskets than his man. In Saturday night's game against La Crosse he scored more baskets than both of the La Crosse forwards. He is probably the hardest man to guard on the team, being able to shoot from any angle or position and is extremely accurate. Throughout the tournament his work was a feature and with his whirlwind of speed and great strength outclassed any players at the Appleton contests. He was a heavy scorer, making sixteen baskets while his close guarding kept his opponents down to eight.

Edler has played a prominent part in the high school athletics, having played four years of football, and also playing on the three basketball teams that went to the state tournament. With these two more graduations this year it will mean a serious loss in the athletic activities.

Hemming, center of the championship team, has achieved a seemingly impossible record at baskets, which is above any other player in the state either in college or high school. While he had a worthy rival in Wiesse of La Crosse, his playing during the championship contests ranked him far superior to any center in the state. His man made five baskets to his two in the last game, although his excellent team work placed him far above his opponent. During the tournament contests his basketball shooting ability never faltered and he was the chief scorer of the team. Hemming's honor of being on the all-state team is largely increased in the fact that he was made captain on the second team. Hemming scored eighteen baskets and had a large lead over his men.

Atwood sprang the surprise to the local fans for, while he was picked as the best forward at the Reboit contest, it was thought he would make little showing for honors at the state meet. His playing was flawless and was a large scorer in the contests. His speed and accurate shooting baffled every opponent. He was picked as the best forward there. He scored fifteen baskets and his man never saw the goal.

Editor of the sturdy little forward, played star games while at the tournament and while he was not a large factor in scoring, his excellent floor work and fast passing was a large cog in the local team's work. He is not to be styled as an individual star, as he is always willing to feed the ball to any of his teammates who has a better shot. His frequent fouling also counted against his showing for all-state honors. This is his first year on the team and he, together with Hemming and Atwood, should be the making of another championship team. With another year's experience, Edler will undoubtedly be one of the best forwards in the state.

While the fans are praising the regulars there remains the fact that the team was well equipped with subs who were superior to the majority of players on rival high school teams. Kullow, Stewart and Ryan have demonstrated that with another year's coaching they will develop into stellar players.

An interstate contest between the champions of Illinois, Galesburg, and the Janesville team, would attract wide attention and would settle the long-argued question of which state has the best team. The players on the local team are unanimous in their opinion that no high school team in the west can take their measure, and their playing during the season upholds their claims.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

THE SELF-PLAYING PIANO
(By Howard L. Rann.)

The self-playing piano is a musical instrument which was invented for the benefit of people who never learned to play on anything but the keyboard of trade. Thousands of people who were obliged to cultivate corn while others were cultivating a musical taste now have the satisfaction of sitting down to a piano player and making long streaks of melody out of the Tannhauser overture. In the presence of fatigued guests who are too polite to attempt to escape.

Nobody knows why the man who devised this device called it a self-playing device, inasmuch as it requires at least 22 horsepower to keep it from lying down and expiring with a deep sigh in the middle of the Moonlight sonata. A series of careful tests reveals the fact that it places a greater strain upon the leg muscles of the operator to drive a self-playing piano through the finale of the William Tell overture than it does to climb the Washington monument.

The average self-player consists of an upright piano equipped with a suction pump, which draws the music out of the interior and throws it around the room in large, melodic lunks. This is accomplished by feeding a roll of pre-digested harmony into the machine and then working both feet up and down until the operator is seized with cramps and the audience with a nervous chill. Every once in a while the roll will get off the track and start a new piece which nobody is interested in when the machine has to be backed up and placed on the rails again.

All player pianos are fitted with a handy arrangement known as the re-roll, which helps people to forget the music by hiding it as fast as possible. After a man has pumped through a roll of music 400 feet long and is about to rub the links out of his right biceps, he is confronted by the necessity of sneezing up the re-roll, by which time he is usually too exhausted to tackle anything for several minutes. There would be more demand for the self-playing piano if it consisted of nothing but the re-roll and a speedometer.

You Beer Drinkers

Read the following opinion of a scientist, an authority who has experimented and therefore knows that "light starts decay even in pure beer."

"We have tested beers repeatedly, placing the bottles in the direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable on account of the peculiar odor developed. The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are, therefore, recommendable."

DINNER STORIES

For a whole hour the captain had been lecturing his men on "The Duty of a Soldier," and he thought that now the time had come for him to test the result of his discourse.

Casting his eyes around the room, he fixed on Private Murphy as his first victim.

"Private Murphy," he asked, "why should a soldier be ready to die for his country?"

The Irishman scratched his head for a while; then an ingratiating and enlightening smile fitted across his face.

"Sure, captain," he said pleasantly, "you're quite right. Why should he?"

"I had the pleasure of entertaining some friends at dinner not long ago," says the rabbi. "We had spent a pleasant hour over the meal and I had tried to entertain my guests with some stories.

"I think my arm is broken," was the feeble reply. "I wish you would get me a surgeon."

An ambulance took him to the rear. At the field hospital at Wilderness Tur-

From "Battles and Leaders."

"General Jackson moved cautiously down the shadowed road."

ern Dr. Hunter McGuire amputated Jackson's left arm near the shoulder. Early the next morning a note came from General Lee at the front saying:

"I cannot express my regret at the occurrence. Could I have directed events I should have chosen to be disabled in your stead. I congratulate you upon the victory which is due to your energy and skill."

"General Lee should give the praise to God," said Jackson, fervently happy at the receipt of this message.

It still remained for General Lee to complete the victory which Jackson had begun, and he did so in a series of operations which occupied two strenuous days and involved risks fully as great as "Stonewall" had taken in his great banking movement.

General Jackson meanwhile had been removed to the Chandler house, near Guinea Station, on the railroad from Fredericksburg to Richmond. Here his wife and child joined him, and he was not only comforted, but seemed to share with those about him the hope of recovery. Then came a change for the worse and pleuro pneumonia developed. His last words were: "Let us cross over the river and rest under the shade of the trees."

"If the head of Lee's army is at Martinsburg and the tail of it on the plank road between Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville the animal must be very slim somewhere. Could you not break him?"

So President Lincoln wrote to General Hooker toward the middle of June. But the Army of the Potomac was kept busy watching the Army of Northern Virginia, and the movements of the latter set the pace of action at that time. Lee had sent Ewell, Jackson's successor in command, to the valley to drive the Federal force under Milroy out of Winchester, thus clearing the route for another demonstration toward Washington. This accomplished, Ewell had entered Maryland, followed thither by Lee's other two corps under Longstreet and Hill.

Then, even as Lee had calculated, Hooker also marched northward on a line parallel to his own, but, of course, much nearer to Washington. The battle of Gettysburg was already planned in embryo. But the Federal side of it was not to be commanded by "Fighting Joe" Hooker. As soon as the Federal army was ready to cross the Potomac a new leader was put in the saddle in the person of Major General George Gordon Meade.

CHAPTER XI.

Whirling Through Winchester.

THE great, epic three days' battle of Gettysburg, the most stupendous artillery and infantry combat that ever took place on American soil, saw the high water mark of the rebellion. Shortly after Pickett's column had dashed itself to pieces against the iron bound, flame fringed Union lines on Cemetery ridge the tide began to ebb, slowly but steadily, back from the hills of Pennsylvania and Maryland, below the old triumphant lines of the Potomac and the Rappahannock, finally to cease, twenty months later, by the remote banks of the Appomattox.

The Federal army, cautiously maneuvered by Meade, followed Lee into Virginia, but did not attack him, and the remainder of the summer season was one of welcome repose to both sides.

At the headquarters of the Federal Army of the Potomac, now encamped along the Rapidan, General Meade had a gorgeous Solfierino silken flag with a golden eagle in a silver wreath emblazoned on it flying over his tent. One day in March a silent, bearded stranger passed in passing to gaze upon this splendid emblem as he exclaimed involuntarily:

"What's this? Is imperious Caesar anywhere about here?"

The bearded stranger was Lieutenant General Ulysses S. Grant, newly commissioned in command of all the armies of the United States. The Washington authorities had finally come to the decision that their immense plans of campaign should be put under one hand for execution. Such head must necessarily be a hard and stubborn one. It rested, in the opinion of Mr. Lincoln and of others high in the Federal councils of war, upon the sturdy shoulders of the conqueror of Vicksburg. General Grant was not addicted to high military strategy, but for direct tactics and plain fighting he was undoubtedly a match for General Lee.

"The bearded stranger was Lieutenant General Ulysses S. Grant."

The first important vacancy now to be filled in the Army of the Potomac was that of commander of the cavalry corps.

When Grant asked for a chief of cavalry Halleck suggested General Philip Sheridan, who had served with distinction under his own command in the west and under Grant at Chattanooga. The suggestion therefore was one after Grant's own heart, and he promptly adopted it. The general belief indeed was that Grant himself had selected Sheridan, though such did not happen to be the case.

Personally Sheridan was not an imposing figure. Short and slight, he looked even younger than his age, which was just past thirty. He was reticent in speech and manner and to a casual observer seemed lacking in the essential qualities of a cavalry leader which had distinguished such officers in the Federal service as Sumner, Sedgwick, McClellan, Thomas, Stoneman and others.

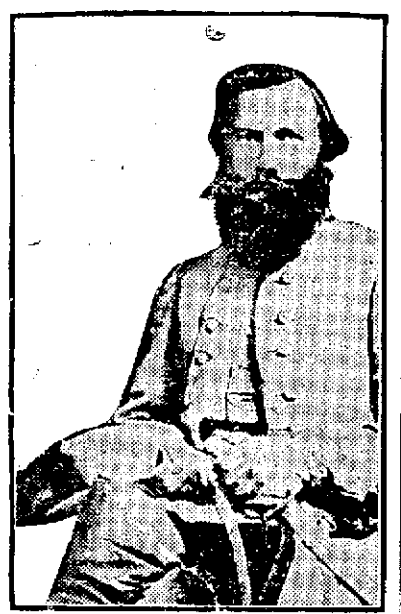

"Does Sheridan say if he has a free hand he can beat the enemy's cavalry?"

asked General Grant of General Meade a few days after crossing the Rapidan into the Wilderness, sixty miles from Richmond, to fight his way to the James. "Then let him go ahead and do it."

That settled the dispute between Meade and the new cavalry commander, and thereafter the three divisions of the reorganized Federal mounted force under Generals Torbert, Gregg and Wilson had comparatively loose rein. The cavalry gave a fairly good account of itself, but it found little or no opportunity for concentrated action in a region where even Grant's infantry hordes got in each other's way, even as Hooker's had in that same Wilderness around Chancellorsville.

The sanguinary horrors of the year before were renewed at Spotsylvania and the "bloody angle," but they could not stop Grant. He could keep up his "hammering" process all summer if necessary, because the resources of the Federal reservoir of human supply were so much greater than those of the Confederates that he could afford to lose three men to Lee's one and still ultimately beat him. At Cold Harbor, the old McClellan battleground, the Federal losses came near to wiping out even this liberal margin.

Meanwhile Sheridan found his long awaited opportunity in a grand raid toward Richmond with an overwhelming force, including the enterprising brigades of Custer and Merritt, the object being to tear up Lee's communications with his capital and to be in a position to dispatch the remainder of the Army of Northern Virginia--if Grant had defeated it in the Wilderness.

General J. E. B. Stuart, C. S. A., Cavalry Leader and Beau Sabreur.

ness. This latter part of the program was never carried out, but in opposing it at Yellow Tavern, only a few miles from Richmond, the Confederates lost their gallant cavalry leader and beau sabreur, the incomparable Stuart.

Relentlessly the war went on. Lee a second time had checked the Federal forces at the gate of Richmond. Grant, in the middle of June, settled down in front of Petersburg, determined to "fight it out on that line if it took all summer." It did. In fact, the siege was destined to last ten long, weary months.

General Lee sent us large a force as he dared detach under Early, once more to march down the Shenandoah valley and threaten Washington.

Sheridan's orders from Grant were to press Early and cut Lee's communications by which he got supplies from the rich valley for his dwindling army. This was a large contract for the young commander of the Army of the Shenandoah. If he could fulfill it, Richmond was doomed and the days of the Confederacy were numbered. Moreover, this was the region where the prestige of the Federal arms most sorely needed rehabilitation.

Hence the desirability, as Grant said, of Sheridan's driving the enemy out of the valley and of leaving nothing there to invite their return. With some idea of the magnitude of the task before him, but confident in the strong backbone and broad discretion given him by the lieutenant general, Sheridan made his plans to "sweep the valley so clean that a crow flying over it would have to carry its rations."

The defenders met this move with a relatively small force, but including as many troops as possible who had previously stamped the Winchester pike with "Stonewall" Jackson's "foot cavalry." Among these youthful veterans now led by Jubal Early was Colonel Robert Ellingham--still Bob to his Virginia comrades, as once again he faced homeward.

with strange feelings of anxiety and depression. What if the ill turn fortune had taken of late pursued them now even beyond the Blue Ridge mountain walls? Far south, in Georgia, Sherman's army was marching victoriously to the sea. The Confederacy had been cut in twain by the fall of Vicksburg and again by the loss of Atlanta. Now Sheridan proposed to establish a line of communication with his base of supplies at Washington that would subdivide Virginia and isolate Richmond. The hardships as well as the horrors of war were now coming home to the people of the valley as never before.

But ripened summer was all around, and outward peace and plenty abounded that late August afternoon when Ellingham galloped up the sunlit Linden avenue to Belle Bosquet. Gertrude rushed out from the veranda to meet him. She was re-enforced by a buxom and animated young person wearing a blue dress of military cut and a soldier's cap.

"Why, Miss Buckthorn!" exclaimed Bob, flinging himself from the saddle and throwing the bridle of his horse to Josephus Orangeblossom, the negro hostler, who grinned an effusive dental welcome. "It is a delightful surprise to see you here--makes me think the war is over."

"Thank you, Lieutenant--oh, pardon me! I mean Colonel Ellingham, of course," responded Jenny. "Hearstense has come over to the valley, and so has papa--with General Sheridan. I hope there won't be any serious misunderstanding. Meanwhile I am a prisoner of hospitality, and I'm in no hurry to be exchanged."

"And now, Robert," Gertrude went on eagerly, "prepare yourself for more news. Some one else whom you know is coming."

"Madeline--but, no!"

"But yes! How did you think of it? She was in Washington visiting Mrs. Haverill, and I urged her to come over here and see us--that before I knew of General Sheridan's intentions; they keep their plans so secret, you know. But Madeline accepted the invitation, and she's coming anyway."

UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher
Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams
BY WALT MASON

The winter seems ended, the soft vernal breezes come up from the Southland, refreshing and sweet; we bid a farewell to the north wind that freezes, we think we are done with the snow and the sleet; and just when we're sure that old winter has bled in, as dead as the dearest of petrified men, the wind swings around to the northwest of Sweden, the backbone of winter gets busy again; that fussy old backbone, that volcanic backbone of winter gets busy again. We tire of cold weather; we grow it with longing, and soon as a robin is seen on the lawn, we say, "It is time for our light, underclothing;" we take off our flannels and put them in pawn. And then we've the grip and the jumping pneumonia, we furnish a snap for the medical men;

No More Constipation

It's Me for Olive Tablets.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and Calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar coated tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take that children do not regard them as "medicine" at all.

If you have a dark brown mouth, tired feeling--a headache--torpid liver and constipated bowels, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of these perfect Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands of people every night just to keep their bowels moving. Every little movement at per box. The Olive Tablets.

they fill us with pills and with remedies phony; the backbone of winter is busy again; that dogged old backbone, that jimtwisted backbone, that daddusted backbone is busy again. It's not safe to bet that the winter is over till hens go to setting and horses shed hair, till bees are a-buzzing around in the clover, and flies are so thick that they make father swear.

So often we're fooled by the harbinger vernal, the previous bud and the premature wren, and wake from our dream to conditions internal--the backbone of winter is busy again; that foolish, old backbone, that impudent backbone, that heart-breaking backbone is busy again.

ELECTION NOTICE

OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK, March 24, 1913.

To the Electors of Rock County: Notice is hereby given that a judicial and state and county superintendent of schools election is to be held in the several towns, wards and election precincts in the County of Rock, on the 1st day of April, 1913, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The name of the candidate for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate designation, each in its proper column.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters: A voter upon entering the polling place, and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk, which must have endorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment, and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. If a voter wishes to vote for some of the candidates of different political parties, he should make a cross mark under the name of each candidate he desires to vote for, or at any place within the space in which the name is printed. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office, whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. In voting for candidates for County Judge or Superintendent of Schools place a cross at the right of the names for whom you wish to vote, but vote for only one. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner.

If the ballot be spoiled it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth, or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box and hand him his ballot to be placed in the box and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter, and if he declares that he is totally blind he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath, in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are, for example, as follows:
